District 6000 Gov. Mike Ruby and wife Jo Anne will meet with us again

District 6000 Gov. Mike Ruby and his wife Jo Anne came to one of our meetings a few months ago. At the Sept. 6 meeting they will return to get better acquainted – and to reveal the district’s plans and aspirations for his term. We received a preview at Wednesday’s meeting, when Dennis Peterson of North Scott Rotary announced the district’s participation in World Bicycle Relief (see below).

Assembly lists club’s ’17 goals

President Tim Lane opened this year’s Club Assembly with his assessment of the Rotary Club of Bettendorf’s place in the world. It went something like this:

Rotary is the No. 1 service club in the world. District 6000 is one of the very best districts in the world. Bettendorf is probably the best club in District 6000. Therefore, Bettendorf is “the best damn Rotary club on the planet,” he modestly acknowledged.

After introducing members of the 2017-18 Board, Tim said a series of one-on-one interviews with members revealed that Bettendorf Rotarians think of ourselves as people we enjoy being with as we work together to make a positive difference in the community – and we want more opportunities to do the same. In summary, he said, “We’re doing many things very well, and we’re only limited by time and money.”

A quick look at demographics showed how Bettendorf Rotary contrasts membership trends at the international and district levels – and is expanding the time and money available to serve our communities, at every level.

RI – with 1.2 million members in just under 35,700 clubs – and District 6000 – with 3,800 members in 65 clubs – both suffer about 10% yearly attrition in membership. Bettendorf has about 10% turnover each year, but maintains its membership at about 102, on average.

Meanwhile, BRC gives back 100% of its fundraising efforts to the community as grants, scholarships and ongoing programs – more than $100,000 planned for 2017-18. And we have fun raising funds, serving (or both at once) at meetings, at the annual LobsterFest (which netted $70,000 in '17, Golf Outing, Holiday Party, Symphony Pops (more than 120 Bettendorf Rotarians attended) and John Deere Classic.

Every year, we also:

- Give a personal dictionary to each 4th grade pupil in the city of Bettendorf
- Give $1,000 scholarships to graduates of Bettendorf (2), Pleasant Valley (2), Rivermont (1) schools, Scott Community College (1) and $1,000 towards the Carl Schillig Memorial Scholarship fund
- Support the Bettendorf Public Library Foundation with $1,500 yearly
- Send four public high school students each year to the Iowa RYLA (Rotary Youth Leadership Academy)
- Gave grants to 12 non-profit QC organizations – and likely will increase that with in 2017 since LobsterFest was so successful
- Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets (plus Christmas gifts for kids) to families in need
- $500 each year to District 6000 ongoing projects to aid cleft palate and club foot patients
- $2,000 each year to Rotary International PolioPlus and international clean-water and sanitation projects
- And each year we identify at least one one-day-and-done hands-on “Betten-Do” project to help beautify our city

This year, Tim said, “My job is not to screw it up” – but to maintain the club’s momentum of service to communities from the QC to internationally, adding this year support for the District 6000 World Bicycle Relief project.

Along the way, Tim broke down the club's revenue sources:

- LobsterFest and Happy $$ raise the most revenue and “pay for all of our programming and grants”
- The endowment fund generated $4,800 yearly toward scholarships
- Quarterly dues from members cover all club operations (meals, dues to district and Rotary International, club secretary, Website hosting, and other cost-of-doing-business expenses)
- A “rainy day” fund of $50,000 is being built, to be used in case of emergency

Because Rotary International has slated a 3-year series of dues increases, BRC dues will rise in 2018 from $190 per quarter to $200, Tim added.

In conclusion, he listed this year's other goals – in addition to existing grants, scholarships and ongoing programs:

- More social events that many members can enjoy together
- Partner with all QC Rotary clubs to build the Miracle Field for young players with challenges in Davenport – and then a second Illinois-QC field
- Welcome Bettendorf Rotary's Rotary Exchange student, Alessandro Lomaestro
- Reach out to QC youth to teach them more about the value of philanthropy
- Sustain the existing scholarship programs and expand them as available funds permit

Quoting Past RI President John Germ, Tim said, “We'll make a difference in our community,” adding “We'll find a way to get each member more involved.”
